

A woman with dark hair and bangs stands in a doorway of an abandoned building. She is wearing a black, white, and blue zip-up hoodie with the word 'GOMA' on it, black pants, and white sneakers. The wall behind her is covered in graffiti, including the word 'TRIP' in black spray paint. The doorway is surrounded by overgrown plants and debris. The overall atmosphere is gritty and urban.

LEGO FAST

LEGO FAST

You can imagine her speeding up and down the southern highways without looking back. Lego Fast has no time, the pace is pressing. In love with brutal industrial techno, but irresistibly drawn to music from the East, Lego Fast has forged a hybrid style, where audacity borders on the experimental. Depending on your mood (and the time of day), you'll find house voguing as much as euphoric, demented psytrance. So it's highly advisable to fasten your seat belt.

TECHNO
HOUSE - VOGUING
MINIMALE
TRANSE / HARD TECHNO
AMBIANT TECHNO

TO LISTEN

YOUTUBE
SOUNDCLOUD
INSTAGRAM

TO CONTACT
ANAÏS RAMBAUD
06 76 01 59 89